INDEX OF SUBJECTS.

PAGE

Amyl, Use of Nitrite of, in Diseases of the Ear. By J. Michael, of Hamburg..535–541
Aneurismal Varix, Note to the Case of Vascular Protrusion of Both Eyeballs, arising from Intra-cranial Aneurismal Varix. By Emil Gruening..... 513
Anthrax on the Inner Side of the Lower Lid. By H. Knapp..... 28–31
Astigmatic Pencil. On the Analytical Conditions of that Form of Astigmatic Pencil in which the two Focal Lines are Perpendicular each to the Axis of the Pencil and also to each other, and on the Correction of such Pencil by a Plano-cylindrical Lens. By G. Hay, of Boston 497–504
Astigmatism. The Fundus of Astigmatic Eyes. An Attachment to the Ophthalmoscope. By Wm. S. Dennett, of Boston.....505–507
Audition, A case of Restricted Range of. By Swan M. Burnett, of Washington, D. C.....532–534

Cicatrix, Manometric, of the Membrana Tympani. By Clarence J. Blake....280–282
Colobomata, On the Operations for Traumatic, of the Eyelids. By H. Knapp 18–27
Cornea, On Tattooing the, with Remarks on the Etiology of Glaucoma.....382–392

Decussation, Hemiopia and Optic. By F. Plenk, of Innspruck.....191–220
Diplacusis, A Case of, Binauralis. By Swan M. Burnett, of Washington, D. C.....527–531

Epileptiform, The Connection between, Phenomena and Diseases of the Ear. By S. Moos.....102–107
Eustachian Tube, The Histological Changes of the, in Chronic Catarrh. By S. Moos.....542–558

Filaria, A Case of, Medinensis in the Anterior Chamber. By A. Barkan, of San Francisco.....151–152

Glaucoma, On, and Iridectomy. By J. Schnabel, of Vienna.....342–381

Hemiopia, Right-sided Binocular, depending upon a Gummy Tumor in the Left Posterior Lobe of the Brain. By T. R. Pooley.....148–150
Hemiopia and Optic Decussation. By F. Plenk.....191–220
Hyoscyamine. By E. Pflüger, of Lucerne.....333–341

Illumination, Acuteness of Vision and. By Anton Posch, of Innspruck.....297–332
Iridectomy, On Glaucoma and. By J. Schnabel, of Vienna.....342–381
Iris, A Case of Primary Sarcoma of the, cured by Excision of the Tumor. By Chas. J. Kipp, of Newark, N. J.....34–39

Jugular Vein, The Dilatation of the Bulbus of the, and its Relation to Auditory Hallucinations. By S. Moos. 561–563

PAGE

Keratitis, Further Investigations on. By S. Stricker..... 1 17

Labyrinth, Histological Changes in the, in certain Infectious Diseases. By S. Moos.....245–279
Labyrinth, The Presence of Colloid Masses in the, of Children. By S. Moos..559–560

Membrana Tympani, The Use of the, as a Phonautograph and Logograph. By Clarence J. Blake.....108–113
Membrana Tympani, Manometric Cicatrix of. By Clarence J. Blake 280–282
Meningitis, Ophthalmoscopic Conditions in Basilar, of Infants. By J. Hock, of Vienna.....60–62
Myxoma, A Case of, of the Optic Nerve. Removal of the Growth with Preservation of the Eyeball. By Emil Gruening.....508–512

Nerves, On the Question of the Decussation of the Optic. By J. Hirschberg, of Berlin.....188–190
Nerve, Optic, A Case of Myxoma of the; Removal of the Growth with Preservation of the Eyeball. By Emil Gruening.....508–512
Neuroses, On the Vasomotory and Secretory, of the Eye. By H. Schliephake.479–496

Otorrhœa, On the Operative Treatment of. By Oscar Wolf, of Frankfort-on-the-Main.....94–101

Phlebitis, On the Etiology and Diagnosis of, of the Cavernous Sinuses, and the Value of the Thermometer in the Diagnosis of Cerebral Complications of Purulent Otitis. By R. Wreden, of St. Petersburg.....75–93

Retina, Detachment of the, caused by the Medicinal use of Whiskey. By H. Knapp.....32–33
Review, Ophthalmological. By H. Knapp and E. Gruening.....63–71, 230–242
Review, Otological. By Clarence J. Blake.....114–128, 283–294, 564–577

Sarcoma, A Case of Primary, of the Iris, cured by Excision of the Tumor. By Chas. J. Kipp.....34–39
Sarcoma, Large Orbital Removed, with Preservation of the Eyeball. Death from Acute Nephritis. Autopsy. By H. Knapp.....131–147
Sympathetic Ophthalmia, A Contribution to the Nosology and Treatment of. By J. Samelsohn, of Cologne.....48–59
Sympathetic Ophthalmia, Five Cases of. By S. C. Ayres, of Cincinnati.....191–220
Sympathetic Ophthalmia, Historical Notice on. By J. Hirschberg, of Berlin.393–394
Sympathetic Ophthalmia, On the Anatomical Causes and the Nature of.....395–478

Tattooing, On, the Cornea, with Remarks on the Etiology of Glaucoma. By J. Hock, of Vienna.....382–392

Vascular Protrusion. A Case of Vascular Protrusion of both Eyeballs, most probably from Arterio-venous Communication in the Cavernous Sinus; Ligation of the Left Common Carotid; Recovery. By Emil Gruening.....40–47
Vascular Tumors. On the Operative Treatment of Vascular Tumors of the Eyelids and Anterior Part of the Orbit. By H. Knapp.....514–524
Vision, Acuteness of, and Illumination. By Anton Posch, of Innspruck.....297–332

INDEX OF AUTHORS.

PAGE

Alt, Adolphus. On the Anatomical Causes and the Nature of Sympathetic Ophthalmia 395–478

Ayres, S. C. Five Cases of Sympathetic Ophthalmia 191–220

Barkan, A. A Case of Filaria Medinensis in the Anterior Chamber 151–152

Blake, Clarence J. The Use of the Membrana Tympani as a Phonautograph and Logograph 108–113

——————— Otological Review 114–128

——————— Manometric Cicatrix of the Membrana Tympani 280–282

——————— Otological Review 283–294

——————— " " 564–577

Burnett, Swan M. A Case of Diplacusis Binauralis 527–531

——————— A Case of Restricted Range of Audition 532–534

Dennett, William S. Astigmatism; the Fundus of Astigmatic Eyes; an Attachment to the Ophthalmoscope 505–507

Gruening, Emil. A Case of Vascular Protrusion of both Eyeballs, most probably from Arterio-venous Communication in the Cavernous Sinus; Ligation of the Left Common Carotid; Recovery 40–47

——————— A Case of Myxoma of the Optic Nerve; Removal of the Growth with Preservation of the Eyeball 508–512

——————— Note to the Case of Vascular Protrusion of both Eyeballs, arising from Intra-cranial Aneurismal Varix .. 513

Hay, G. On the Analytical Conditions of that Form of Astigmatic Pencil in which the two Focal Lines are Perpendicular each to the Axis of the Pencil and also to each other, and on the Correction of such Pencil by a Plano-cylindrical Lens 497–504

Hirschberg, J. On the Question of the Decussation of the Optic Nerves ... 188–190

——————— Historical Notice on Sympathetic Ophthalmia 393–394

Hock, J. Ophthalmoscopic Conditions in Basilar Meningitis of Infants 60–62

——————— On Tattooing the Cornea, with Remarks on the Etiology of Glaucoma 382–392

Kipp, Charles J. A Case of Primary Sarcoma of the Iris; Cured by Excision of the Tumor 34–39

PAGE

Knapp, H. On the Operations for Traumatic Colobomata of the Eyelids... 18–27
——— Anthrax on the Inner Side of the Lower Lid..... 28–31
——— Detachment of the Retina, Caused by the Medicinal Use of Whiskey..... 32–33
——— and E. Gruening. Ophthalmological Review..... 63–71
——— Large Orbital Sarcoma, Removed with Preservation of the Eyeball; Death from Acute Nephritis; Autopsy..... 131–147
——— and E. Gruening. Ophthalmological Review..... 230–242
——— On the Operative Treatment of Vascular Tumors of the Eyelids and Anterior Part of the Orbit..... 514–524

Michael, J. On the Use of Nitrite of Amyl in Diseases of the Ear..... 535–541
Moos, S. The Connection between Epileptiform Phenomena and Diseases of the Ear..... 102–107
——— Histological Changes in the Labyrinth in Certain Infectious Diseases..... 245–279
——— The Histological Changes of the Eustachian Tube in Chronic Catarrh..... 542–558
——— The Presence of Colloid Masses in the Labyrinth of Children.... 559–560
——— The Dilatation of the Bulbus Venæ Jugularis and its Relation to Auditory Hallucinations..... 561–563

Pflüger, E. Hyoscyamine..... 333–341
Plenk, F. Hemiopia and Optic Decussation..... 191–220
Pooley, T. R. Right-sided Binocular Hemiopia, depending upon a Gummy Tumor in the Left Posterior Lobe of the Brain.....148–150
Posch, Anton. Acuteness of Vision and Illumination..... 297–332

Samelsohn, J. A Contribution to the Nosology and Treatment of Sympathetic Ophthalmia..... 48–59
Schliephake, H. On the Vasomotory and Secretory Neuroses of the Eye..... 479–496
Schnabel, J. The Accompanying and Consecutive Diseases of Iritis.....153–187
——— On Glaucoma and Iridectomy..... 342–381
Stricker, S. Further Investigations on Keratitis..... 1–17

Wolf, Oscar. On the Operative Treatment of Otorrhœa..... 94–101
Wreden, R. On the Etiology and Diagnosis of Phlebitis of the Cavernous Sinuses, and the Value of the Thermometer in the Diagnosis of Cerebral Complications of Purulent Otitis..... 75–93